

Update about recycling in the Link

For those who haven't spotted it, we have a cardboard recycling box beneath the office hatch in the Link.

In it you can put the blister packs that are used for pills. These are collected regularly by Nancy Holden, who takes them to Boots in Broughton. Boots have a container at the back of the store where the packs are posted for recycling.

Also, there should be a bag in the box which is used for plastic milk bottle tops (preferably white ones despite the picture above). These are collected by Hilary Rogers who passes them to a group that uses them for making public benches.

If anyone has any ideas or thoughts about recycling, please let me know.
